God calls us to try and change the world. How will you shape it?
Write or draw what you hope is in your future in or around each finger.

Take a moment to pray about how these things might happen.